

AOCMF Course—Advances in Flap in Head and Neck Reconstruction with Anatomical Specimens

April 8–11, 2019 Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

COURSE DIRECTOR

Thomas Abraham (Malaysia)

“This course is designed to improve the surgeons knowledge & skill in performing essential procedures to help improve patient outcomes in head and neck reconstruction.”

Target participants

This course is designed for surgeons interested in improving skills in head and neck reconstructive surgery (Maxillofacial surgeon, plastic surgeon, ENT surgeon).

Learning objectives

Upon completion of the course, the participant should be able to:

- Able to perform these procedures step by step safely
- Apply surgical skills in a variety of procedures in head and neck reconstructive surgery
- Recognise complex anatomical procedures

Course description

This four-day intensive course comprise of a combination of lectures and hands-on practical exercises using fresh frozen anatomic specimens. The course will cover

1. Commonly used vascularised tissue transfer in head and neck reconstruction.
2. Distant pedicled flaps in head and neck reconstruction
3. Commonly used local flaps
4. Neck dissection

Course Venue

University of Malaya
Jalan Universiti, 50603
Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

Course Fee

To be confirmed

Course Registration

The registration will be open by November 2018.
For more information, please visit www.aocmf.org

Contact

Jenny Cheng (AOCMF Project Coordinator), at: jenny.cheng@aocmf.org